

Gas Prices in 2014

Can we examine the world events and see the future unfolding on inflation and worries? While at my desk there are globes and maps, and all the places shown are having their own crisis of economy that is burdening each nation. In retirement, my nest egg is looking light merely by the increases in fuel costs that were less than two dollars before our last leader took office.

There were many attempts by the industry to curve the growth that doubled in two years, but the liberal loudmouths keep spouting their rhetoric to kill the solutions in favor of a fantasy of fictitious fears. It is dominant in the Medias to quote those with no knowledge of the facts, and establish their prominence as authorities from repetitive displays.

We are paying the price for their self promoting ignorance by shedding out dollars in double the amounts of what we would normally have to yield.

Examine some of the statements of too much carbon in the air. This makes the trees greener, the harvests greater, and the abundance of life more vibrant. If we could only shake loose the trash that guides or clueless politicians, we could afford to go on vacations again, without being saddled from supporting every nation with a scheme to extract our funds.

I voted in new politicians that promised to relieve us of the spend-oholics in charge of our savings, but none have come through with the simple task of following the foundational rules of common sense and their oath of office. Through my window there are crimes in the light of day that have never been considered in earlier times, but it is now a common theme to embrace the complaints of the antagonists and encumber the conformists with the disproportional costs of unproductive and proven failed solutions.

Stand in a crowd sometime, and try to get a consensus on a complicated topic. In every case, it is the loudest and most insistent person that sways the direction. The conservative logic will rarely win without overriding authority, and the roots of our demise are in this fact. We have squandered our trust to self promoting and irresponsible leadership, with the initiation of our Constitution's 15th, 19th and 26th amendments.
